THE ARGUMENT IN THE INJUNCTION CASE THE SUPREME COURT YESTERDAY LISTENED TO AN ARGUMENT ON THE MISSISSIPPI INJUNCTION CASE.

The motion for leave to file the application was discussed by Attorney-General Stanbery for the Government, and Robert J. Walker for the so-called State of Mississippi. The whole argument turned upon the preliminary point, whether a bill which purports to make Andrew Johnson defendant as President of the United States, and to enjoin him in the execution of his duties as President, should be allowed to be filed in the Supreme Court.

Mr. Stanbery said the President was above the process of any Court, or the jurisdiction of any Court, to bring him to account as President. He was amenable only to the process of impeachment before the Senate, and could not be tried even for the commission of murder until he had first been impeached and removed from the office of President.

He also stated that the President would obey no order issuing from the Court to appear before it as a defendant, but would treat the subpoena as Mr. Jefferson did in the case of Burr.

He then went on to trace what would be the inevitable result in a case like this if the Court had power to bring the President before it. They might commit him for contempt, and then imprison him at will, as no writ of habeas corpus could release him in that case.

Mr. Stanbery stated, in closing, that he appeared there by the approbation, advice, and instructions of the President. And he said, in defense of the President, that although the gentlemen in their bill had said that he had vetoed these acts of Congress as unconstitutional, when the President did that, he did everything that he intended to do in opposition to these laws.

Robert J. Walker replied to the argument advanced by the Attorney-General, maintaining that the President was amenable to the Supreme Court, and averring that if the Court should issue its mandate declaring an act of Congress to be unconstitutional, and restraining the President or Secretary of War, or any of the officers of the army or navy, from the execution of that act, whoever should resist that mandate of the Court by force would be guilty of treason.

SENATOR NYE OF NEVADA.—One of the great requisites of Congressional influence is the gift of repartee. Unless a member or Senator is ready with a retort, and has the happy faculty for extemporaneous debate, he stands no chance of coping with his fellows.

Mr. Nye spoke at length, denouncing the recent rejection of able Generals for political reasons. Mr. Doolittle inquired why some were confirmed and others rejected? Mr. Nye replied that the question was asked centuries ago, why one was taken and another left? and it had never been answered.

Such points as these, thrown off in a running debate, and evidently impromptu, show powers of repartee which will yet place the Nevada Senator in the first rank of our Congressional leaders.

DR. WISHART. WHAT IS DYSPEPSIA? DYSPEPSIA HAS THE FOLLOWING SYMPTOMS:

1st. A constant pain or uneasiness in the pit of the stomach.—Which is caused by a permanent contraction of the stomach upon the undigested food. It generally begins immediately or a short time after eating; is often very severe and obstinate.

2d. Flatulence and Acidity.—These symptoms arise from the indigestion of food, which ferments instead of digesting.

3d. Costiveness and Loss of Appetite.—These symptoms are the effects of the unnatural condition of the stomach. In fact, nothing but Dyspepsia, pure bile and gastric juice. The stomach is often painfully distended by wind; the appetite is sometimes voracious.

4th. Gloom and Depression of Spirits.—This state arises from the enjoyment of life, and is caused by the impure blood furnished by imperfect digestion. In this stage of the disease many persons commit suicide. There is a constant foreboding of evil, and an indifference and positive inability to perform the offices of life.

5th. Diarrhoea.—After being at first costive, the sufferer is afflicted with diarrhoea, which is owing to a diseased condition of the bowels, produced by the undigested food, which is evacuated in the same condition. There is a constant urgency, and course gives no strength to the system.

6th. Pains in all Parts of the System.—Arise from the action of impure blood upon the nerves. They are most chiefly in the head, sides, and breast, and in the extremities. In many cases there is an uneasiness in the throat, with a sense of choking or suffocation; the mouth is often clammy, with a bad taste and a furred tongue.

7th. Consumptive Symptoms and Palpitation of the Heart.—Many persons pronounced as having the disease, have, in fact, nothing but Dyspepsia, the lung and heart disease being only symptoms.

8th. Cough.—This is a very frequent symptom of dyspepsia, and is caused very often into confirmed consumption.

9th. Want of Sleep.—A very distressing symptom, resulting from mental derangements.

10th. Symptoms of External Derangement.—The patient is affected painfully by cold and heat, which is owing to unnatural eruptions of skin, and the skin is often affected by eruptions and tetter. The gloomy dyspeptic avoids society as much as possible.

11th. Vomiting.—A frequent and distressing symptom. It relieves the pain, but emaciates and wears out the patient.

12th. Dimness of vision, headache, and staggering in walking.—These are very alarming symptoms, which are speedily removed by our medicine; but if neglected are quickly followed by numbness and sudden death.

13th. It is impossible for us to give all the symptoms of Dyspepsia in so small a space, but the above are considered sufficient, if we add that the patient loses his memory and regard to surrounding objects, and frequently becomes morose and sour in disposition. We should say, however, that pains in the joints and stiffness of the limbs, which go by the name of rheumatism and neuralgia, are produced by Dyspepsia. Also, a hardness of the muscles of the abdomen, which becomes contracted and hard; and in some cases the belly sinks, instead of being gently protuberant.

N. B.—Perhaps we have not said enough of that strongest symptom of Dyspepsia, melancholy. We have examined hundreds of cases of Dyspepsia, who were so much affected in their minds that they constantly forbode loss of their reason, which unfitted them for business of any kind, and many of them have been patients of the Insane Asylum, who are now permanently cured by our medicine.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars are spent yearly, and hundreds of thousands of the best men and women of America linger in pain and die, and fill a premature grave, with that awful disease, Dyspepsia. They try this physician and that physician, but alas! alas! no relief, no cure; and the next we hear of them they have gone "to that bourne from whence no traveller returns."

Out of the thousands of cases of Dyspepsia that have used Dr. Wishart's Great American Dyspepsia Pills and Pine Tree Tonic Cordial, not one of them has failed of a perfect cure. We warrant a perfect cure in every case, no matter how long it has stood. Sold by all druggists everywhere, and at Dr. Wishart's Office, No. 10 N. Second street, Philadelphia, Pa. All examinations and consultations free of charge. Send for a circular. Price of Pills, One Dollar per box. Sent by mail, free of charge, on receipt of money.

DR. L. Q. C. WISHART'S PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL. A GREAT REMEDY FOR THE CURE OF THROAT AND LUNG DISEASES.

It is the vital principle of the Pine Tree obtained by a peculiar process in the distillation of the tar, by which its highest medical properties are retained.

It is the only safe and reliable remedy which has ever been prepared from the juice of the Pine Tree.

It invigorates the digestive organs and restores the appetite.

It strengthens the debilitated system. It purifies and enriches the blood, and expels from the system the corruption which scrofula breeds on the lungs.

It dissolves the mucus or phlegm which stops the air passages of the lungs.

Its healing principle acts upon the irritated surface of the lungs and throat, penetrating to each diseased part, relieving pain and subduing inflammation.

It is the result of years of study and experiment, and it is offered to the afflicted with the positive assurance of its power to cure, if the patient has not too long delayed a resort to the means of cure.

CAUTION. Whereas, Base and designing men, regardless of the lives of the sick, and with a view solely to their own pockets, are making and vending a spurious article worse than useless—representing it as my Pine Tree Cordial, copying, in some cases, my labels and bottles, with slight variations to protect them from the law, the subscriber has been induced as a protection to the public, to publish a false simile of his bottles as last patented by the United States Government; and hereby cautions all persons who value their health and life against purchasing any of the many preparations offered for sale as Tar Cordial, unless my name and a Pine Tree is blown on the bottle; all others being of wicked imposition to deceive the suffering and fleece them of their money, regardless of consequences.

The genuine Pine Tree Tar Cordial is made by a process and of ingredients known only to myself, which secret has never been divulged, and any and all persons claiming to make my Pine Tree Tar Cordial are true impostors.
